Landscape Architect

According to what I have learned in the class, I found that Landscape Architecture is the knowledge that very important to create a suitable environment for a human and other life to living in this world. I believe, landscape architecture is the knowledge to integrate the processes of natural with human life style and make them balance. The good landscape architecture design is not only design a beautiful picture of landscape, but it is the solution of deal with the natural ecosystem, human society and economic and design a better quality of life. This portfolio is a collection of my academic studio projects and some competition. My portfolio is a testament to my deep passion for designing and creating outdoor spaces that people can use, enjoy and collectively share. Everything that you see in this document, I had a hand in designing and creating, be it renders, plans, and the layout itself.
